PROJECT

As a third-year French student in Foreign Languages for International Trade, specialising in English, Chinese, and Italian, I am looking for a two-month internship focusing on marketing or import-export. I aim to apply my language skills and knowledge from courses in marketing, economics, law, and communication. I'm particularly interested in cross-cultural communication and how companies settle in the global market. I am eager to gain hands-on experience that will allow me to link theoretical knowledge with practical application in a dynamic environment.
